School Update:

A note from Mrs. Zeigle!

Spring is right around the corner, and the TCA staff and students will soon be entering the final quarter of our FIRST school year! This year has truly flown by. It's been a year of learning and growth for all. The students have really settled into the routine, and look forward to what new skill, book, and activity is coming up next. A favorite for all of the students is music class with Mrs. Beaver. She not only teaches them about music, but incorporates the art, poetry, and bible verses that the students are learning about each week. Our last quarter will be filled with continuing to learn & memorize scripture, building students skills and mastery in reading, writing, and arithmetic, and getting outside to enjoy the spring weather!

God has truly lead us along the way and continues to bless TCA. We began the school year with seven students, gained two more in January, and are thrilled that all nine have re-enrolled for the 2025-2026 school year. We recently accepted three more students, which has increase enrollment for our second year to 12 students (4K-3rd grade) at this time.

Classical Christian Education:

How to Have Biblically Literate Children

By Cheryl Lowe

A Few Highlights of Memoria Press' Christian Studies

- Memoria Press treats learning the Bible (Christian Studies) as any other academic subject. They devote the same time, effort, testing, and seriousness.
- For young children (4K-3rd Grade), Memoria Press uses simplified text Bibles vs. storytelling versions.
- They emphasize age appropriate Scripture memorization which appeal to the students' love of beautiful and poetic language.
- They use the King James Bible as it is the most poetic and literary version of Scripture. It also has had a tremendous influence of the English language and is great preparation for students' study of English literature.

“Biblical literacy is just as important as cultural, moral, and functional literacy, and the programs we use to teach it should reflect this.”
